

SIERRA WILDLIFE RESCUE

Residents of El Dorado County and the nearby regions, enjoy a wide variety of wildlife as their neighbors. The natural beauty draws many people to move here, and the increase in human population leads to more frequent confrontations between people and wildlife. Our new roads and housing developments can spell disaster for our wild neighbors.

Sierra Wildlife Rescue cares for wild animals in need. Some have been injured, some have been orphaned, and some have been poisoned by household chemicals such as insecticides or herbicides.

Our mission is the preservation of El Dorado County's wildlife. We are a non-profit, volunteer-run organization licensed through the US Fish & Wildlife Service and California's Department of Fish & Game. Each year we are able to rescue some 1,500 animals, and assist residents in dealing with thousands of other cases.

Our organization is supported almost entirely by private donations and membership dues. Your support will help to keep this important program going. Thank You!
